

Kapono the Marine Iguana

This is one of the Galapagos islands. This is the only place you can find Marie Iguana. They are reptiles and can only be found here. This story is about a special marine Iguana named Kapono

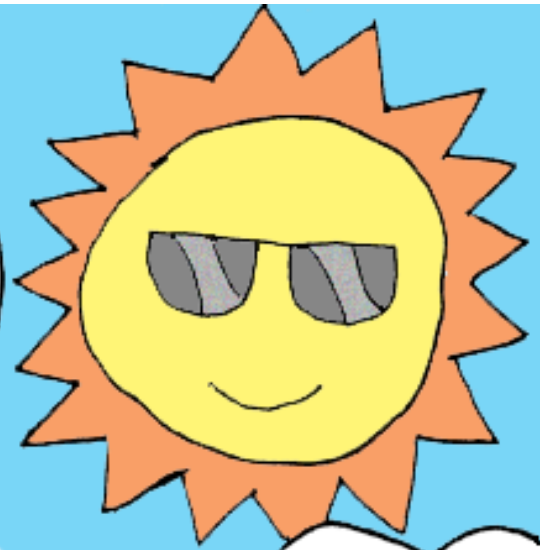

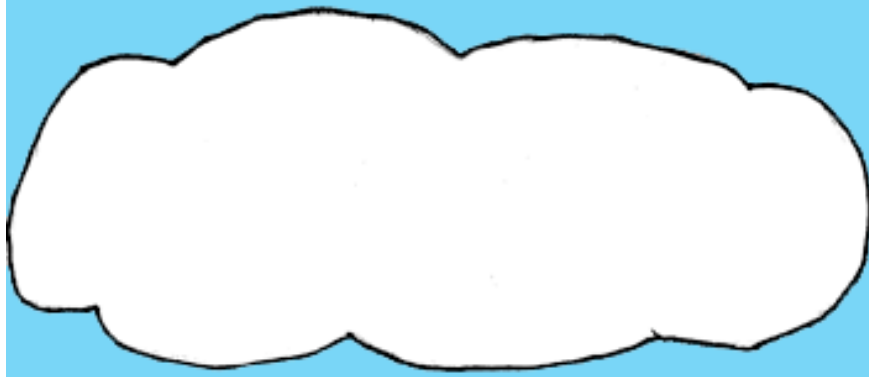

When Kapono woke up he decided to go eat. He dove down 30ft and started to eat some algae and seaweed. Kapono noticed that all the fish were running from him.

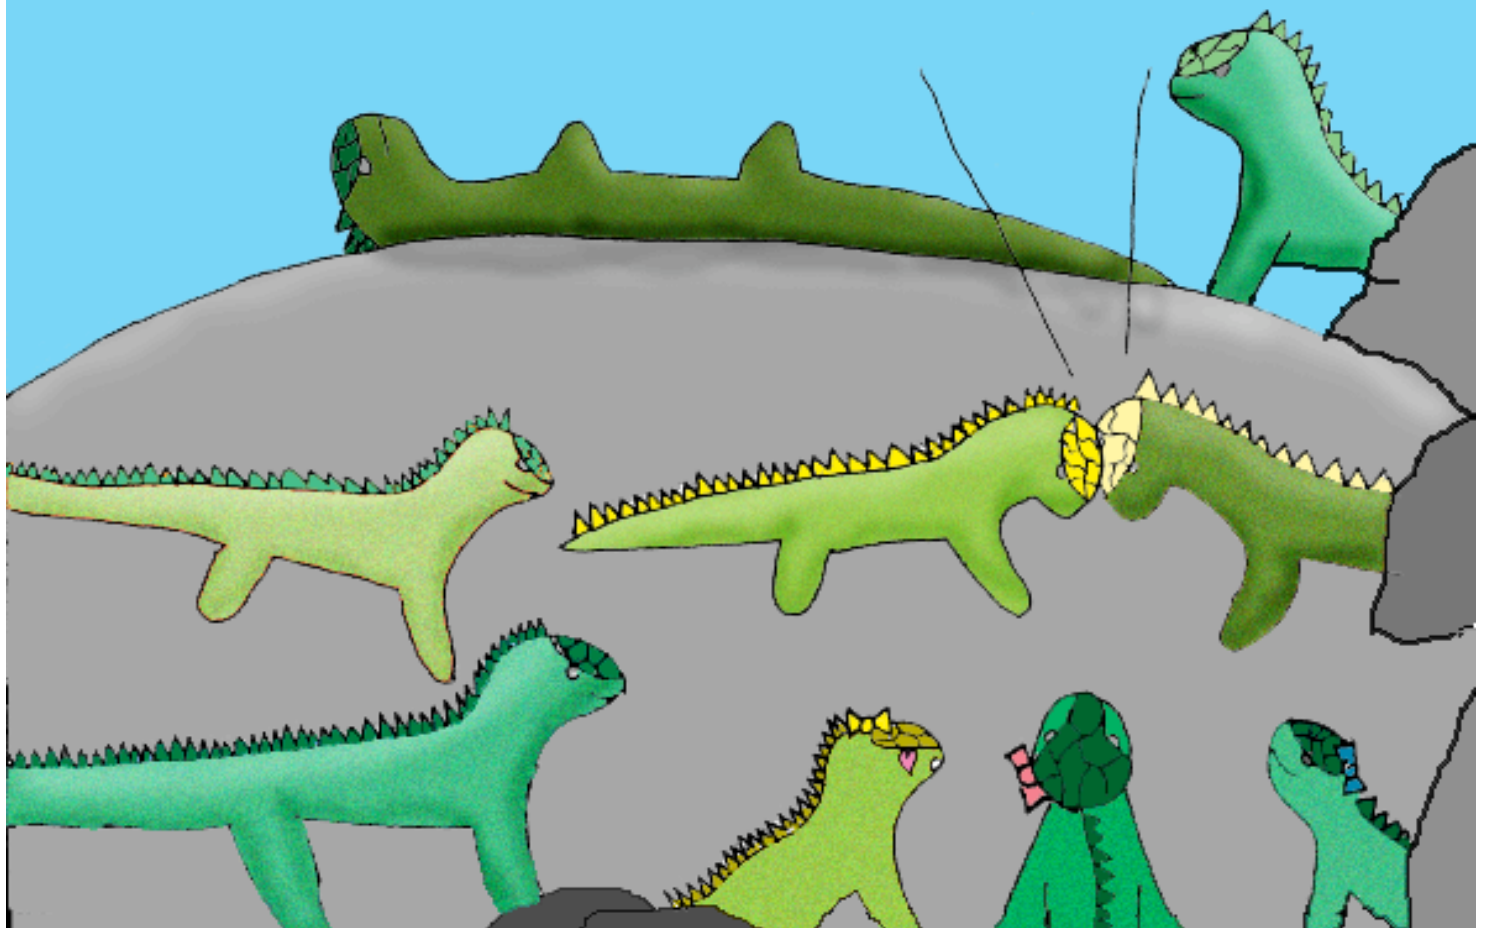

Kapono saw that in his hurry a fish had gotten stuck in some coral. He asked the fish if it needed help.

The fish was named Pablo. Pablo was scared because of the way Kapono looked and didn't want his help.

One day when two men
Marine Iguanas were having a head butting contest (The Marine Iguana headbutt each other to see who marys a girl).
Kapono was sleeping
on a rock.

Once Kapono got Pablo out Pablo screamed, "don't eat me". Kapono explained he was a vegetarian and that he didn't eat fish. From then on Kapono and Pablo were friends And the fish and Marine Iguana lived happily ever after.
