

Eli the Elephant
Seal

By Max Matsuoka

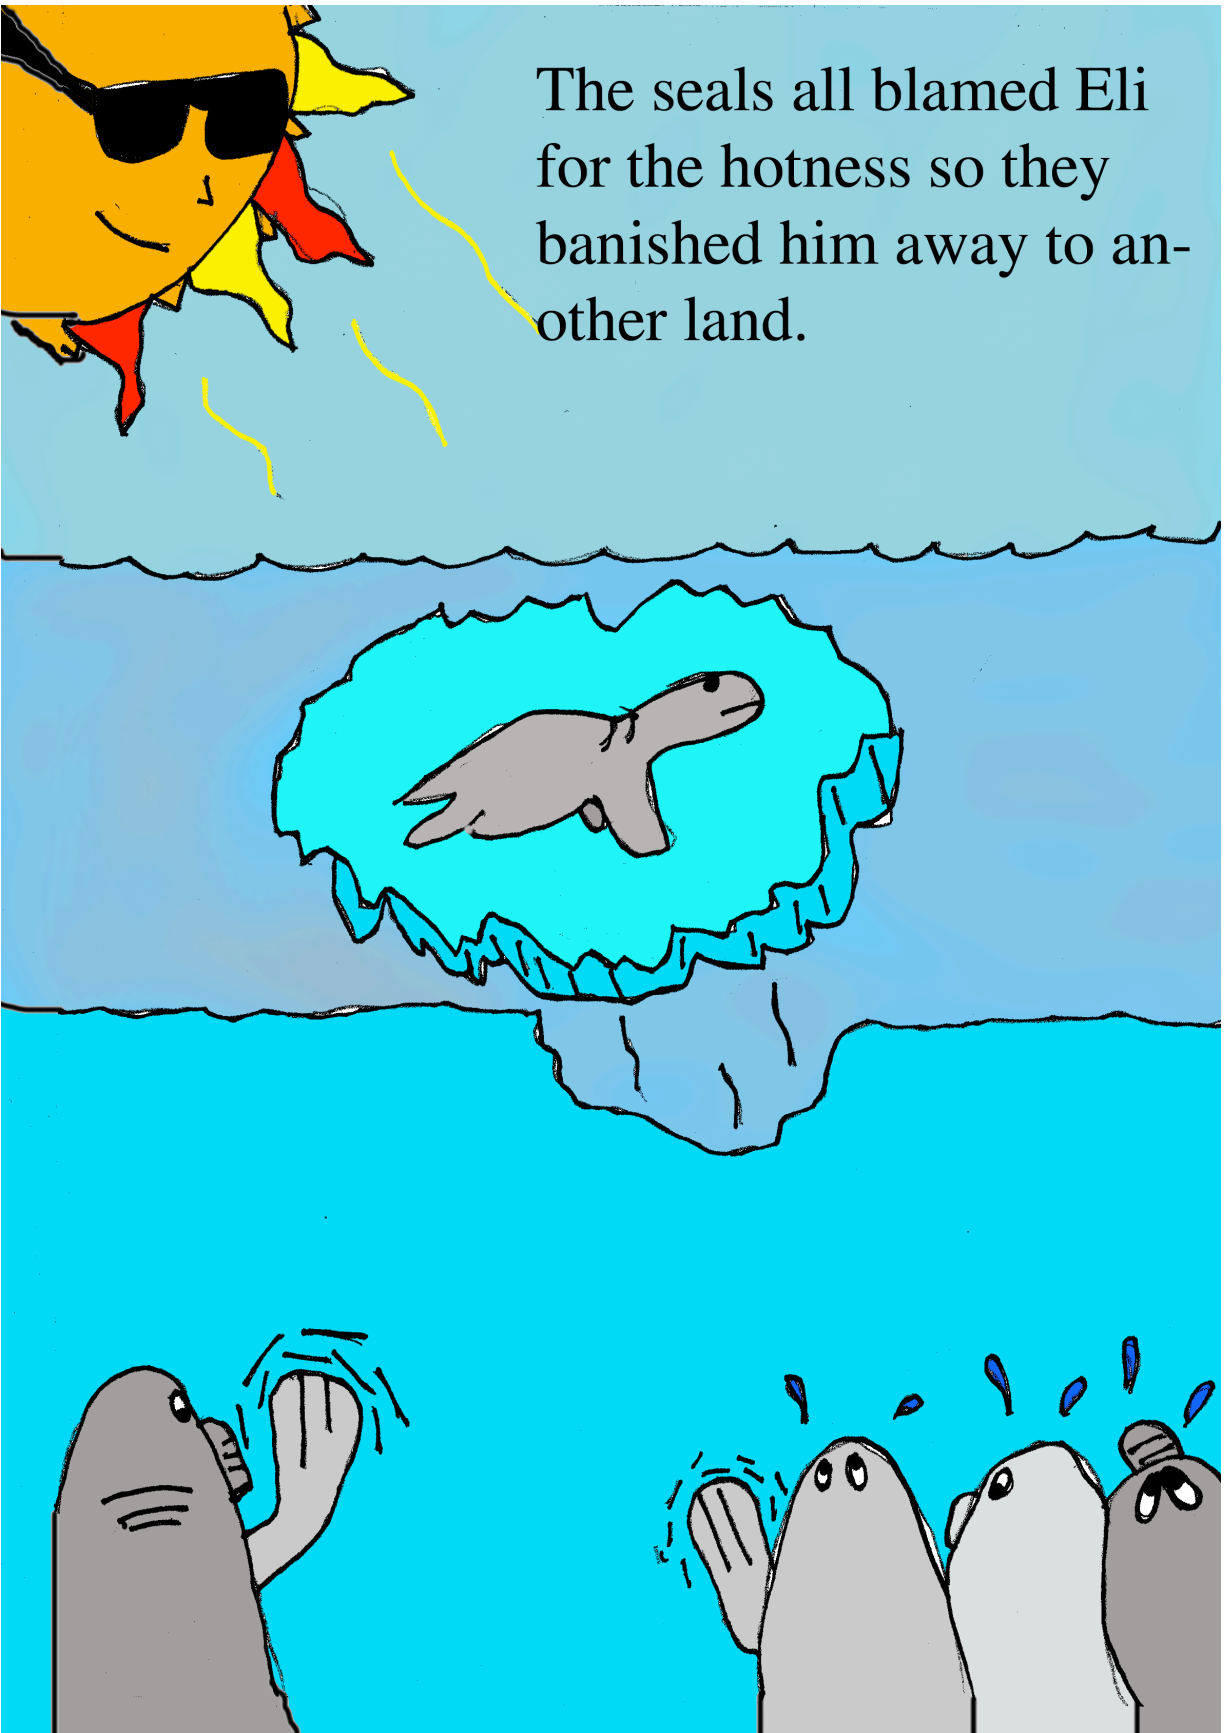

Long ago there was a very small elephant seal named Eli. Everyone teased him and called him names.

Then one day came and it was sooo hot the ice
started to melt
and seals started to faint.

The seals all blamed Eli for the hotness so they banished him away to another land.

On Eli's journey he met Puablo the Penguin and Isic the ice cap and together they traveled.

The trio went all around Antarctica trying to find the coldness but then they came across a great being...

The great being was Wally the walrus. He told them that the coldness went away because the season changed. The trio wanted to tell the other seals about this.

Eli and his friends went back home and told the other seal about the weather and the cold came back.

The End...
