

parenting in the Digital Age

How is technology affecting your child and the family dynamics? Are you managing time online appropriately? Do you feel like technology in the classroom is working?

Kula Ha'aha'a is proud to announce, "Parenting in the Digital Age, Part I & Part II" to help you answer these important questions

Parenting in the Digital Age Part I: "The Big Disconnect: Protecting Childhood and Family Relationships in the Digital Age"

Presented by Dr. Catherine Steiner-Adair, an international speaker and consultant creating thriving, connected cultures at home, work and school. Is the magic of the iPad interfering with the magic of the playground for toddlers through ten year olds? Parents sometimes feel they are losing a meaningful connection with their children. At times children may even feel lonely and alienated. The digital world is here to stay. We will learn how families can survive and thrive in this digital world.

WHEN: Wednesday, February 18, 2015

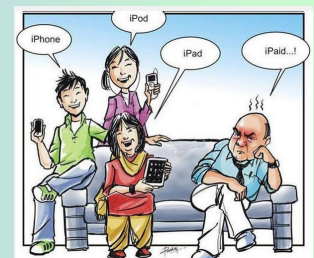

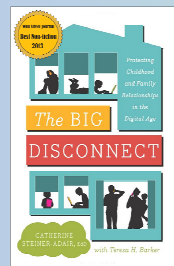

WHERE: William Charles Lunalilo Center

TIME: 6:30 pm - 8:00 pm

Door prizes and refreshments offered.

PARENTS & CAREGIVERS ONLY. This is an adult only presentation.

(see next page for Dr. Steiner-Adair's bio)

RSVP by Friday, Feb. 6th to Kumu Marcie at 982-0268 or email at masaquin@ksbe.edu

Parenting in the Digital Age Part II: "Parenting in the Age of Google"

Presented by Angela Maiers, educator, author, and speaker. The internet has changed the way we communicate, the way we work, and the way students search for information. How has it changed parenting, and the way parents should guide and advocate for their children? Angela will discuss each of these points and take your questions in a session sure to be interactive, engaging and informative.

WHEN: Tuesday, March 3, 2015

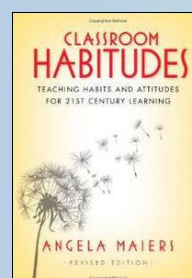

WHERE: William Charles Lunalilo Center

TIME: 6:30 pm - 8:00 pm

Door prizes and refreshments offered.

PARENTS & CAREGIVERS ONLY. This is an adult only presentation.

(see next page for Angela Maiers's bio)

RSVP by Friday, Feb. 20th to Kumu Marcie at 982-0268 or email at masaquin@ksbe.edu

Wednesday, Feb. 18, 2015 - 6:30p-8:00p

Dr. Catherine Steiner-Adair is an internationally recognized clinical psychologist, school consultant, and author. In her book, The Big Disconnect: Protecting Childhood and Family Relationships in the Digital Age (Harper), Dr. Steiner-Adair examines ways in which technology and media are putting our children at risk at every stage of development, while challenging what it means to be a family. A highly sought after speaker, Dr. Steiner-Adair's warmth, humor, and compassionate understanding of children and the adults who care about them makes for an extremely compelling presentation. Her ability to weave research and real stories leaves her audiences enlightened and emotionally equipped with new strategies to handle parenting in the digital age. While discussing how chronic technological distractions can have deep and lasting effects on children and parents alike, Dr. Steiner-Adair proves that children need parents and educators to provide what technology cannot: close, meaningful interactions with the adults in their lives. She gives her audiences the skills to deconstruct unhealthy messages from online culture and create space for nourishing deep attention, creativity, empathy, and healthy relationships. As a resource to the media, Dr. Steiner-Adair has recently appeared on PBS News, Morning Joe and NPR, and has been quoted in numerous newspapers and magazines including the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal and Huffington Post.

Scan QR code to watch
video on Dr. Steiner-Adair

Over the past 30 years, Dr. Steiner-Adair has worked in more than 350 independent schools throughout the United States, including Punahou School in 2014, and abroad, leading workshops for administrators, teachers, and parents on a wide range of topics related to strengthening children's social and emotional intelligence and resilience. Dr. Steiner-Adair's long standing interest in cultural values that undermine children's healthy development began in her early years as a doctoral student at Harvard, and while she served as a school psychologist at Phillips Academy Andover. She is a Clinical Instructor in the Department of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School and an Associate Psychologist at McLean Hospital.

Tuesday, March 3, 2015 - 6:30p-8:00p

Angela Maiers is a pioneer in digital literacy and education technologies.

An award-winning educator, author, and speaker known for her work in education leadership and innovation, Angela works tirelessly to bring compassion-driven learning to classrooms around the world.

As a social media evangelist and consultant, she helps learners and leaders understand the transformative power of technology. Her powerful message and down-to-earth style has made her a highly sought-after keynote speaker for education conferences, corporate events and innovation summits.

Angela is the founder of Choose2Matter, a global movement that challenges and inspires students to work collaboratively to develop innovative solutions to social problems.

Angela spent 14 years teaching elementary school in Des Moines, IA, and 10 years as a literacy coach, special programs facilitator, and university professor. She is an alumna of The University of Iowa, where she earned her masters in educational supervision and reading.

She has also authored six books, including Classroom Habitudes and The Passion-Driven Classroom, which introduced the concept of "Genius Hour" in education. Her "You Matter" talk at TEDxDesMoines has been viewed several hundred thousand times and was the impetus for Choose2Matter.

Angela Maiers is a consistently energized and recognized worldwide speaker greatly impacting leadership through not only education, but in the business and innovation community as well. Challenging educational philosophies and business ethics, Angela strives to achieve total synergy and unstoppable energy by reconstructing the thought process of many dated ideologies.