

October is 'Ohana Month presents:

Kandace Logan, Trainer with Responsive Classroom - come learn about strategies that teachers are using to build social emotional skills in the classroom that create an environment where students can thrive. She will talk about the developmental stages of children to help you be aware of your child's social, cognitive and physical development. Come & learn how you can enjoy your child at each stage.

WHEN: Monday, Oct. 12, 2015 (adults only - no childcare offered)

WHERE: Hā'aeamahi Dining Hall

TIME: 5:00pm - 6:00pm

Wear your E Ola Nō t-shirt and get a makana! Door prizes will be given as well!

Kandace Logan is a Turnaround Specialist in Minneapolis Public Schools, supporting seven schools in the area of climate. She was born and raised in St. Paul and comes from a large family.

She began her teaching career in 1999 as a fifth grade teacher. In 2004, she joined The Origins Program, where she led workshops in The Responsive Classroom for elementary grades and Developmental Designs for grades 5-8.

In addition to leading workshops, Kandace consulted in schools to assist in their implementation of the strategies and practices they learned. Her coaching included planning, demonstration lessons, and reflection meetings. She co-led meetings with teachers, co-led staff meetings, provided professional development and met with school administration regularly to revisit school implementation goals.

Kandace has a seven year-old son who is an avid Lego collector and builder. When they're not at Target buying Legos, she enjoys spending time with her family and friends.

E kuahui like i ka hana.

Let everyone share in the work together.