Getting Started

Tips for Getting Started

Depending on your goals and objectives, consider the following when getting started:

- Have students start with some activities that require very little configuration but are appropriate for most grade levels. Completing assessments, goal setting, and building a resume are some suggested activities.

- Develop a communication plan that addresses Naviance Student training for staff and students.
- Identify current activities that can be accomplished in Naviance Student. For example, a survey can be used for students to vote on student elections or Homecoming nominations.

Monitoring Activity for Naviance Student

- Student Folder – when students take actions in Naviance Student, it is reflected in the student folder in Naviance. This allows you to monitor a specific student’s activities. In addition to viewing a single student’s activities, many of the Naviance components show activity for all students.
- Student Portfolio – this feature of Naviance Student provides an aggregated view of a student’s college and career planning activities.
- Usage Reports – from Naviance, you can run student and parent usage reports to find out how often they are accessing Naviance Student.
