7 REASONS STUDENTS SHOULD BLOG

STUDENT VOICE
Blogs are the new “show and tell,” where students share their love of learning.

FEEDBACK
Testing ideas on others is an important part of growth.

PROCESS
Blogs record a process of how ideas develop over time which encourages reflection.

GLOBAL CONNECTIONS
Blogging broadens students’ perspectives and connects them to the world.

TRANSPARENCY
Being internet savvy in today’s world means being willing to learn openly from mistakes and successes.

PRACTICE
Blogs provide opportunities for regular writing practice.

The infographic above builds upon the work of the two blog posts below:
5 Reasons Your Students Should Blog by: George Couros
10 Reasons Why I Want My Students to Blog by: Susan Davis

Created by: Ellen Cordeiro @elliemellie