Step 1. Download the Audioblocks Sound Clip

When you hover over AudioBlocks sound clips, a menu will appear with the options of “MP3,” “WAV,” and a “+” sign. Click on the MP3 option and wait while the track downloads.

Step 2. Open iTunes and Add to Library

Once your clip finishes downloading, open iTunes and go to File > Add to Library. This is the same on both Macs and PCs.

A folder will then pop up on your screen. From this folder, find your Downloads folder and select the AudioBlocks tracks that you want to import. Once the tracks are selected, hit Open.

(Note: The image below shows what this step looks like on a Mac. Scroll down to see what this would look like on a PC.)

(and on a PC:)

Now your Audioblocks sound clips are imported into your iTunes library. Keep reading for another quick and easy method for importing AB tracks.

Alternative Option:

Navigate to the folder where your Audioblocks sound clips are stored. If you just downloaded the clips (and did not move them to another folder), then you will find them in the “Downloads” folder.

Select the clip(s), right click, and select Open With > iTunes. This method works the same on both Macs and PCs.

Now your Audioblocks tracks will be in your iTunes library.

Bonus: How to Search for the File

If you're not sure if you imported the files correctly, you can always check by searching for the clips in iTunes. Just open iTunes, go to the search bar (in the top right corner), and start typing in the name of the clip that you want to find.

Now you're all set! Audioblocks tracks are incredibly easy to use with iTunes—you don't need any prior technical knowledge to get started.
